Automotive provider selects Baton Rouge

Associated Press - January 15, 2010 5:44 AM ET

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) - A major automotive provider has selected Baton Rouge as the site for a regional distribution center.

Chicago-based Like, Kind and Quality Auto Parts has signed a 10-year lease for 30,000 square feet at the Baton Rouge West Distribution Center in Port Allen. That center is owned by Chicago-based HSA Commercial Real Estate, which made the announcement Thursday.

LKQ provides collision replacement products, recycled original equipment parts and refurbished automotive parts such as wheels, bumper covers and lights.

The company says it selected the site because of its access to interstate highways 10, 12 and 110.
